From Pre-School To Senior Class

For St. Andrew's, the year 1973-74 is distinctive in its history. This is the year of our first Seniors, our first graduation, the achievement of our goal to become a school offering educational opportunities for students from Kindergarten through High School.

Begun as a primary school, St. Andrew's soon was expanded to include the six elementary grades. The year 1963 marked the addition of junior high grades, and 1971 the progression toward a complete school.

1973-74 is further distinguished as the first year under the able administration of Dr. Allen Becker, a man of outstanding qualities - leadership, intellectuality, charm, wit, understanding and ability to inspire both faculty and students.

1973-74 is the year to which we expect to look with pride as the beginning of an epoch in our history marked by unique achievement, dedication to the highest principles of Christian education, and growth and development in every area of school life.

Life, so they say, is but a game and they let it slip away.

Love, like the autumn
sun, should be dying
but it's only just begun.

Like the twilight in the road up ahead, they don't see just where we're going, and all the secrets i the universe, whisper in our ear and all the years come and go and take us up, always up.

We may never pass this way again.

Dreams, so they say, is but a game and they let them drift away. Peace, like the silent dove, should be flying but it's only just begun.

Like Columbus in the olden days, we must gather all our courage, sail our ships out on the open sea, cast away our fears and all the years will come and go and take us up, always up.

We may never pass this way again.

I wanna laugh while the laughing is easy, I wanna cry if it makes it worthwhile. I may never pass this way again. That's why I want it with you.

'Cause you make me feel like I'm more than a friend, like I'm the journey and you're the journey's end. I may never pass this way again, that's why I want it with you.

The objectives of the mathematics department are:

1. To give each pupil ample opportunity and encouragement to continue his mathematical training to the extent of his ability.
2. To make it possible for students with special interest in mathematics to enter college with advanced standing in mathematics.
3. To incorporate an understanding of the logical structure of mathematics.
4. To develop independence in reasoning and analyzing situations.
5. To encourage the realization of the need for precise definitions of terms and knowledge concepts.

Social Studies

The Social Studies department believes that each American needs the ability to think clearly about problems which affect the welfare of the United States and the world. A student needs to learn to analyze and interpret data, to be trained in certain skills and habits, to be given factual knowledge, attitudes, and ideals that will enable him to participate effectively in our democratic society.

Learning to participate effectively is the heart of the problem in social studies. We must not stop at knowing or thinking; we must stress doing, in the actual solving of personal and social problems.

Coaches

The 1973 Saints did a job that has never been done at St. Andrews before: They had a winning season. The schedule was tough, but the Saints got down to the nitty-gritty and pulled out a 6-4 season. As most fans would agree, it was football at its best.

There are many memories wrapped up in that season; summer camp and the mile-a-morning runs, Coach Barkett and his "sadistic" exercises, Natchez and the shock, rain at Stanislaus, pain and anger at Mid-City, the two triumphs over St. Paul and Rutledge, and finally the satisfaction of knowing you did the best possible. It paid off too, with a bowl-bid to play Long Beach. Even though the Saints did not go it was a good feeling to know that they were looked up to and respected for their efforts.

Athletics

We enjoyed many first at St. Andrew's this year. Our athletic program has grown by leaps and bounds. During the fall we offered football at three levels: elementary, junior high, and high school. The winter season brought basketball for both boys and girls at all three levels as well as a new sport, soccer, not only to St. Andrew's but also to Jackson. We had both a lower school soccer team and a high school team.

A larger variety of sports were offered during the spring. High school baseball was another newcomer to St. Andrew's as well as golf and track. Tennis played an important part in rounding out this year's program.

SENIORS of SEVENTY-FOUR

We are the first graduating class.
We've had problems with our senior trip;
Indian literature, medieval feasts, and
Our high school sports' seasons at one time did exist,

But we still have those memories
Of the times when we were together,
We lived unique experiences and learned things
Which will be part of us forever.

Our class has athletes, scholars and artists
And although it has been said we'll be late to our grave,
We will always be the first seniors of St. Andrew's
Now looking towards the future and our lives which lie ahead.
